--------------	-------------------------	--

■ Section related to the employee

No. 2	Name of Applicant	Write the applicant's name.
	Date of Birth	Write the applicant's date of birth.

■ Section related to employment, etc.

No. 3	(Planned) Period of Employment	Check either " <input type="checkbox"/> Indefinite" or " <input type="checkbox"/> Definite" to describe the applicant's period of employment. • If the period of employment is " <input type="checkbox"/> Indefinite," write only the starting date. If the employment period is " <input type="checkbox"/> Definite," write both the start and end date. • Write the years using four digits (yyyy). • If the contract is scheduled to be changed, write the end date based on the applicant's current contract before it will be changed.
No. 4	Place of Work	• If the name of the place of work is different from the name of the establishment issuing this Proof of Employment (as written in the upper right-hand section), write the name of the applicant's actual place of work. • If the address for the applicant's place of work is different from the address of the establishment issuing this Proof of Employment (as written in the upper right-hand section), write the address of the applicant's actual place of work. • If there are multiple places of work, write the address of the applicant's primary place of work. • If there is no place of work, write the applicant's primary location during their period of employment, such as their home address.
No. 5	Type of Employment	Check the appropriate box for the type of employment. • If the applicant is self-employed, check either "Self-Employed" (sole proprietor, manager, representative, etc.), OR "Employee of Family Business (Paid)," OR "Employee of Family Business (Unpaid)," (someone related to a self-employed person, who shares living expenses, and works for the family business unpaid). • If the applicant is both a "Contract Worker" AND a "Fiscal Year Employee," check "Fiscal Year Employee." • If the applicant is a part-time or temporary worker who does NOT fall under any of the categories of "PAATO/ARUBAITO," "Dispatched Employee," "Contract Worker," or "Fiscal Year Employee," check "Part-time/Temporary Worker." • If there is no appropriate box, check " <input type="checkbox"/> Other" and briefly describe the type of employment in the parentheses.

No. 6	Employment Hours (If applicant has a fixed schedule)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Under "Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Sunday, and Holidays," check a box for each of the days that the applicant works. • Write the total hours worked in a month. Write the total hours worked per month based on the applicant's employment contract, not the actual number of hours worked. Even if the applicant is using Reduced Working Hours for Childcare, enter the number of hours the applicant worked before they started using reduced hours. If the contract only stipulates the number of working hours as per week, multiply that value by 4 (weeks). If it only stipulates the number of working hours as per year, divide that value by 12 (months). The number of working hours is the amount of working hours stipulated in the contract, it does not include overtime. Write the total amount of break time in a month (limited to breaks stipulated in employment regulations, etc.). • Write the approximate number of days worked per month and worked per week. Write the total hours worked per month based on the applicant's employment contract, not the actual number of hours worked. If the contract only stipulates the number of working days as per week, write "Approximate Number of Days Worked Per Month" as that value multiplied by 4 (weeks). If it only stipulates the number of working days as per month, write "Approximate Number of Days Worked Per Week" as that value divided by 4 (weeks). If it only stipulates the number of working days as per year, write "Approximate Number of Days Worked Per Month" as that value divided by 12 (months), and write "Approximate Number of Days Worked Per Week" as that value divided by 48 (weeks). • Write hour times using military time (24 hours, NOT am/pm). If the applicant works overnight or through the night until the next day, continue to count up past 23:00. Example: "22:00 to 29:00," if the applicant works from 22:00 to 5:00 the next morning. Write the working hours for each weekday, Saturday, Sunday, and holiday. Write the total amount of break time as the total amount of minutes (limited to breaks stipulated in employment regulations, etc.) during the relevant time period. If the applicant does not work on weekdays, Saturdays, Sundays, or National Holidays, leave this blank.
	Employment Hours (If applicant does not have a fixed schedule)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If the applicant does not have a fixed schedule, write the number of total hours as stipulated in the employment contract. • Write the total hours worked in a month OR in a week. Write the total hours worked based on the applicant's employment contract, not the actual number of hours worked. Even if the applicant is using Reduced Working Hours for Childcare, enter the number of hours the applicant worked before they started using reduced hours. If the employee contract only stipulates the number of working hours as per day, multiply that value by 5 (days) for the total number of hours worked in a week. If the number of working hours per week is written in the application, that value multiplied by 4 (weeks) will be considered as the total number of hours worked in a month. The number of working hours is the amount of working hours stipulated in the contract, it does not include overtime. Write the total amount of break time in a month OR one week (limited to breaks stipulated in employment regulations, etc.). • Write the approximate number of days worked in a month OR in a week. Write the number of days worked based on the applicant's employment contract, not the actual number of days worked. If the number of days worked is only stipulated in the employee contract as per year, divide that value by 12 (weeks) for number of days worked "In a month," and by 48 (weeks) for the number of days worked "In a week." • Write hour times using military time (24 hours, NOT am/pm). If the applicant works overnight or through the night until the next day, continue to count up past 23:00. Example: "22:00 to 29:00," if the applicant works from 22:00 to 5:00 the next morning. • For "Main Working Hours/Shift Range," write the most typical shift hours. Even for employment contracts that do not stipulate core hours, etc., write the most standard shift hours, the ones that the applicant works the most. Please note that if the applicant is applying to a municipality for child-care and they work a shift schedule, there are cases where it is necessary to attach a full shift schedule.
No. 7	Three Months of Work Hours Number of days includes paid leave. Hours includes breaks and overtime.	Write the approximate number of days and hours worked over the last three months.
